Procurement.
It's everywhere.

The Statue of Liberty, New York, NY. Maintained by the National Parks Service.

During its 1984 restoration, scaffolding rising 240 feet was erected around the Statue of Liberty; just one of the products procurement professionals purchase every day.

Like the Statue of Liberty, NIGP is a landmark. Since 1944, the Institute has been providing ground-breaking professional development programs to government procurement professionals throughout the world. It's a legacy we are proud of.

Join us and discover the time-saving resources, collaborative peer-to-peer communities, and innovative best practices our members enjoy. Visit nigp.org/membership or call.
